Be a part of our team!

PRODUCT DESIGN INTERN (M_F)
SEPTEMBER 2019 - FEBRUARY 2020

As a member of our design team, you can contribute significantly to our design projects. We are always curious about new input and don't hesitate to share our knowledge in industrial design, business design and design research with you. During the internship, you'll be integrated in a multiplicity of projects or you might even get your own projects – with continuous support of the team of course. We want to emphasize our flat hierarchies, short communication channels and the familiar atmosphere. We are a team, not just in the studio, but also as participants of the cologne marathon or hotly ping-pong matches.

JOB PROFILE:

We are looking for someone, who is highly motivated and a superior, team-oriented expert for industrial design projects. Working for Noto means to experience the entire design and product development process. You will develop concepts, which enter markets shortly or define the world in a few years. During your work, you will develop complex machines and products, which are almost made purely by hand. You work as a service provider for global players or together with young, ambitious Start-Ups.

- Mandatory internship
- You enjoy working in a team
- You offer good skills in sketching
- You are skilled in handling Adobe CS
- You are well grounded in Rhinoceros and Vray
- Very good in spoken and written english
- Confident in preparing and holding presentations
- You possess craftsmanship for the construction of prototypes
- Possession of a driving licence
